Top Dentists 2010: Methodology

For this year's list of Top Dentists, New Jersey Monthly commissioned an independent survey of the state's dentists by the Polling Institute at Monmouth University in West Long Branch.

Here's how the survey was conducted: On January 4, a one-page questionnaire was mailed to all 6,435 New Jersey-based dentists who have been licensed in the state for at least five years. The mailing list, which is used by the Board of Dentistry for licensing purposes, was obtained from the New Jersey Department of Consumer Affairs. Respondents could either return the original paper questionnaire or complete the questionnaire online. Web survey participants were required to enter their last name and license number to avoid duplication.

In the end, a total of 1,164 valid, non-duplicated responses were received (625 by mail and 539 online) for a response rate of 18 percent.

The list represents 298 Top Dentists in nine specialties out of more than 2,500 New Jersey dentists who received at least one vote from their peers. In most cases, a minimum of ten to fifteen votes was required to make the final list. The threshold was lower in certain specialties and regions of the state with fewer practitioners.

Plastic surgeon

I am enquiring about a plastic surgeon which appeared on back cover of one of your older editions. I believe the drs. name included a J and W in his name. His office may be located in Far Hills and Colts Neck.

Thank You in my search
